Hello,

My name is Martin Isenberg. I am an ECA graduate, and I think it would be incredible unfortunate for the State of Connecticut if the institution were closed. I gained significant career advantages there by studying music at a college level while still in high school. The music faculty are great teachers and requiring the faculty to all be certified is a mistake. That will most likely give the students a faculty of less ambitious and talented musicians who decided they'd rather teach then become professional performers. Studying with Jeff Fuller was an honor, and I gained a lot from all the faculty I cam across while studying there.

thank you for your time,
Martin Isenberg
